Instructions for Fellowship Applicants

- Interviews will be conducted in February and fellowship winners will be notified within two days of completion of interviews.

By accepting a fellowship, recipients agree to the following:

- A fellowship recipient is required to become a member of the Denver Branch of the English Speaking Union, and must apply for membership for two years, and must agree to serve on the BUSS or Shakespeare Competition Committees, in the coming year. Currently, the cost for a single year-long membership is $50.
- In the fall after returning from England, fellowship recipients are expected to attend a dinner meeting of the Denver Branch to give the membership a verbal report and evaluation of their studies at the British Summer Schools. The dinner is without cost to the fellowship recipients, and the presentations may be quite informal.
- Any person awarded a fellowship who withdraws after payment has been made to the University of choice and if no alternate is available and no refund is forthcoming, must assume in writing, responsibility to reimburse the Denver Branch for monies expended on his or her behalf.
- Final selection of fellowship recipients is the sole responsibility of the Denver Branch of the English Speaking Union, and is not subject to review or appeal.

Note: Tuition, accommodation and most meals at the British Summer Schools are included in the fellowship; partial airfare stipends may be available.

Fellowship recipients must return their completed university application (which they will be given at the interview) plus one copy, directly to the ESU Education Department in New York, not to the British institution, by the morning of March 2, 2011.
