"Royalties from the Royalty"

SATURDAY, MAY 22 AT HILLWOOD COUNTRY CLUB

Tim Heald, author, journalist, public speaker
Author of Prince Philip's official biography, Tim Heald has written novels and whodunnits which have been compared with those of Graham Green, Evelyn Waugh and P.G.Wodehouse. He has lived and worked extensively in the USA.

A Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature, Guest Speaker on the QE2, Visiting Fellow at the Universities of Tasmania and South Australia, he has raced across the Atlantic on behalf of the Daily Express and played Elephant Polo in Nepal for the Sunday Times. During the summer of 2003 he was busy filming his first TV series for Carlton. The subject of the filming, village cricket, also gives its name to the book which Tim has written to accompany the series. Village Cricket was published on May 1st, 2004. Also published in May was Tim's latest crime novel, Death and the Visiting Fellow.

Tim Heald learned the rudiments of public speaking at Sherborne School in the early sixties when he was Hon. Sec. of the Debating Society. He continued his studies at Oxford University, where he reported on Union debates for Cherwell, the university newspaper.

Last but not least, his daughter's wedding to a Mexican banker in Wiltshire was a most memorable occasion where he only kept control by blowing a referee's whistle and showing his new in-laws red and yellow cards by way of warning.

The U.K. Press Gazette recently said that: "Heald can keep a bar amused for hours with countless tales of the nonsenses and nightmares of Fleet Street".

Autographed copies of “Princess Margaret – A Life Unravelled” will be on sale at the dinner.
MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Those of you who were unable to attend the High Tea at Shadowbrook on April 18th missed a rejuvenating experience. ESU Members Clara and Nelson Davenport, owners of the exquisite Shadowbrook estate, and their daughter Phyla, put together an extraordinary array of nutritious and delectable High Tea delights too numerous to list. Typical comments overheard included "wonderful", "incredible", and "fabulous". Marilyn and I second those sentiments.

Very few members missed the landmark event of the first ESU Twelfth Night celebration at Travellers Rest on Jan 5. The abundant decorations fit the evening's theme perfectly. Several people started decorating early in the day, including Melinda Coles, Lynne Siesser and Joan Campbell. Many others arrived from time to time to help.

The evening's program, the refreshments and, yes, even the clean-up afterward showed what can be accomplished when a large number of people work together. When the doors were finally closed, the hall looked as though no one had been there. After all that had occurred that memorable evening, that was a remarkable feat.

The Spring Banquet on May 22nd will feature Tim Heald, British author, journalist and official biographer of HRH Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, and HRH Princess Margaret. He is also known for his mystery novels featuring Simon Bognor, special investigator, serialized by Thames TV.

In his talk "Royalties from the Royalty", Mr. Heald will discuss his long career of writing about the Royal Family and will share some of the many personal experiences he has had in getting to know them. We look forward to welcoming him and his wife, Penelope Byrne.

Many thanks to those who have made donations to our local education programs. Your generous assistance in this key ESU initiative is critical as we strive to enrich the educational milieu in middle Tennessee.

Your executive committee is busy formulating proposed programs for the 2010-2011 season for Board discussion and approval. There may be some surprises in store. Watch this space.

DONNA BREWER, winner of the 2010
British University Summer School Fellowship

A native of small-town Middle Tennessee, Donna Brewer grew up in Cowan and currently resides in Winchester with her husband Steve. After graduating from The University of the South in 1999, Donna began her teaching career at Tullahoma High School where she has instructed seniors and sophomores in both college preparatory and honors English courses. Along with their traditional classroom activities, students perform theatrical works by Shakespeare and Sophocles in Mrs. Brewer’s classes, breathing life into classical texts. As a graduate student in the Sewanee School of Letters, Donna thrives on continued education and eagerly anticipates researching for her thesis and expanding her instructional practices in the “Teaching Shakespeare Through Performance” class at Shakespeare’s Globe Theatre in London this July. She thanks the English-Speaking Union for its generosity in facilitating this opportunity.

Donna’s BUSS fellowship is funded through the generosity of the members of the Nashville Branch of the ESU with support coming from the English-Speaking Union of the United States.

Thank you to those who have been so generous to the Education Fund since January 1, 2010:
